

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND SPORT TEACHING

In our department, there is formal and evening education in the master's program as well as doctoral education. Postgraduate education is carried out with a multidisciplinary approach together with teacher training areas and teaching methods. In addition, depending on the support of interdisciplinary studies, opportunities such as taking courses from other departments are provided. Along with providing an education that supports the multidimensional development of graduate education students, it aims to develop their research and application-based analysis skills.
